AUG 30 2000

Dear Colleague:

Tragically, in less than 45 days, four more lives have been lost in switching operations. Nine of the 15 job-related rail fatalities so far in the year 2000 have occurred in switching operations. In addition, 43 serious injuries have occurred in switching operations between January 1, 2000 and June 30, 2000. I write to you today to ask for your personal help and involvement in stopping these horrific deaths and injuries.

The greatest loss of life in the rail industry, outside grade crossing fatalities, occurs during switching activities. That is why labor, management, and the Federal Railroad Administration worked so diligently together to develop the Switching Operations Fatality Analysis (SOFA) Report recommending what we call the "Five Lifesavers." When these five lifesaving actions are indelibly etched into the work habits of all operating employees, the devastating deaths and injuries could be dramatically reduced and even eliminated.

Together we can spread the SOFA/lifesavers message to everyone in the rail industry. I know that many efforts have been made to date and others are ready to be launched. What I would like to know is your assessment of the SOFA/lifesavers campaign since the release of the SOFA Report in October 1999. In your own experience, how effective has it been? How else can the message be spread? Do you think other tools of prevention should be included?

I look forward to hearing from you on this crucial issue as soon as possible. At the same time, I have directed the Office of Safety to establish a special task force to review practices at those locations which have experienced the largest percentage of incidents related to switching operations, for example, Cook County, Illinois; Harris County, Texas; and Albany County, New York. In addition, I have personally asked for the SOFA Working Group's advice during their meeting today.

Let us strive together to prevent any more job related deaths. As we succeed in our prevention efforts, we have the chance to create the safest year in railroad history. The lowest number of deaths, 27, occurred in 1998 when, for the first time, our industry had a number under 30. If we attack the tragedies in switching operations, we can save lives with unprecedented results.

Sincerely,

Jolene M. Molitoris

Administrator
